TODAY'S NATIONAL HOLIDAY

We recognize April 1st as National One Cent Day. The United States first issued a one-cent coin produced by a private mint in 1787. It was designed by Benjamin Franklin. On one side it read "Mind Your Business" and the other "We Are One." This coin was made of 100% copper, was larger than today's penny, and came to be known as the Fugio cent. Today's one cent coin is made of copper and zinc and has borne the image of President Abraham Lincoln since 1909.
